

72 Hours

Charleston is made for walking. Actually, meandering. Heck, why not wander a bit while you're at it. Charleston's an old girl, well-mannered to be sure, but she rewards the visitor who's not afraid to poke around, duck down alleyways and sneak a peek through wrought iron gates. Discoveries await at every turn, from architectural delights to enchanted gardens and window-box bonanzas, to historical tales of statesmen, pirates and suffragettes (among others).

OYSTER POINT WALKING TOUR
WHERE: HISTORIC DISTRICT

Walk the walk! Take an Oyster Point Walking Tour with the experts. Ask for Bill or Palmer as your tour guide.

EXPLORE WATERFRONT PARK
WHERE: 1 VENDUE RANGE

Gaze for days at sunny Charleston Harbor. How many sailboats can you count from the pier at Waterfront Park?

72 HOURS

The Zero George Guide to Food, Fun, and Culture in the Holy City

Pro-Tip: Ask the Zero George concierge to book your Beach Package for two, which includes roundtrip car service, beach chairs, towels, a Zero George tote bag, embroidered hats, sunscreen and waters.

Play:
SULLIVAN'S ISLAND
WHERE: SULLIVAN'S ISLAND

If you start your day at Fort Sumter, then you'll have gotten a glance from afar of how quaint and dreamy Sullivan's Island is. Home to Fort Moultrie on the southern tip and four miles of lovely beach, Sullivan's is the quintessential residential beach town—low-key and family-friendly, complete with a few restaurants, ice cream shops, a playground and art galleries. A great place to spend a relaxing afternoon at the beach.

Eat:
THE OBSTINATE DAUGHTER
WHERE: 2063 MIDDLE ST.,
SULLIVAN'S ISLAND

Cap off your beach afternoon with dinner at The Obstinate Daughter, the culinary gem of Sullivan's, featuring a raw bar and house-made pasta and wood-fired pizza. Or make a trip to The Obstinate Daughter as your excuse to get out to the beach.

Pro-Tip: Time it correctly and savor a sunset stroll on the beach before or after dinner. Especially in the fall, this is a don't miss!

72 HOURS

The Zero George Guide to Food, Fun, and Culture in the Holy City